Terry Rileys In C

In C is a musical piece composed by Terry Riley in 1964 for an indefinite number of performers. He suggests "a group of about 35 is desired if possible but smaller or larger groups will work". A series of short melodic fragments, In C is often cited as the first minimalist composition (though La Monte Young's drone compositions preceded it by several years, In C had a greater impact on public ...

Techniques. Riley's music is usually based on improvising through a series of modal figures of different lengths. Works such as In C (1964) and the Keyboard Studies (1964–1966) demonstrate this technique. The first performance of In C was given by Steve Reich, Jon Gibson, Pauline Oliveros and Morton Subotnick. Its form was an innovation: The piece consists of 53 separate modules of roughly one ...

Terry Riley's minimalistic masterpiece "In C" is, admittedly, an extremely experimental piece of work. It is a supreme example of music for its own sake, music that doesn't express anything other than itself. It should be noted that it also expresses itself very very well. "In C" allows our imagination to soar, because it doesn't know its limits.
